Library Science Grad Course Announced

A graduate course in library science will be offered in the Long Beach area this fall by the extension division and the School of Library Science of the University of Southern California. The three-unit class will carry graduate credit and will apply toward the Librarian Credential. The course, "Administration of Libraries," will be offered at the Long Beach Public Library, Ocean Blvd. and Pacific, Sept. 24. This 15-meeting class will run from 7 to 10 p.m. on Thursdays and will be taught by Edwin Castagna, librarian. Registration and payments of fees will be at the first class meeting. Textbooks, if needed, will be sold on the night of registration. GI, Korean, and California State veterans may enroll upon presentation of proper credentials. California State veterans must have an authorization certificate issued for the University of Southern California for the fall semester, 1959. Those expecting to enroll under state benefits should contact their local veteran offices immediately, USC said. Phone your classified ad—call FA 8-2345.

Tuesday Last Day for Camino Registration
"Although classes will open on Sept. 14, one final date has been established for late registration," Leo M. Christian, assistant director of student personnel at El Camino College, announced today. Sept. 15 will mark the final opportunity for prospective students to enroll in the local community college. Hours of registration will be 1 to 2 and 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. in the Registration Office, which is located in the Administration Building, 16007 S. Crenshaw Blvd. "While many classes have already been filled, openings are still available in a wide selection of subject areas," Christian noted.

Physics, Chemistry Instructors Join El Camino College Staff

Four new physics instructors and two new chemistry instructors will join the El Camino College staff in the division of physical science this week. The instructors will be added to the present staff of six physics instructors and 12 chemistry instructors. Dr. Robert J. Romagnoli comes to El Camino College after spending two years on the faculty of the Illinois Institute of Technology. He received his B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. Degrees from the Illinois institution. He has specialized in the field of electricity and magnetism. Richard B. Walton joins the college staff after 13 years on the faculty of the Portland State College. Walton received his A.B. and M.S. degrees in physics from Oregon State College and will be pursuing work for the Ph.D. degree at the University of Southern California. He will be instructing in the mechanics, fluids, heat and sound courses of engineering physics program. Ernest Cohen, for the past two years a part-time instructor in the physics department, will assume full-time duties this fall. Cohen has been employed for the last two years as a physicist with Ramo-Woolridge Corporation, Prior to this time he was employed at the University of California's Los Alamos, N.M., laboratory and by the Sylvania Television and the American Optical Corporations in Buffalo, N.Y. Cohen instructed at the University of Buffalo for seven years and received his bachelor's and master's degrees from this institution. He has also completed graduate work at the University of New Mexico and is enrolled in a doctoral program at UCLA. Jesse V. Platts is the fourth new member of the physics faculty and comes from California State Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo, where he has recently completed studies for the master's degree in physical sciences. Platts has also instructed at Bartsow High School for two years and part-time at San Bernardino Valley College. He received his bachelor's degree in the physical sciences from Cal Poly. The four will teach physics, while Lester V. Smith and Jack Wolf will teach chemistry. Smith, formerly chairman of the division of science and mathematics at Taft Junior College, received his master's degree from Pepperdine College in the natural sciences and his master's degree from Long Beach State College. He has also completed graduate work at UCLA. He will instruct in the Physical Science Survey and Applied Chemistry programs. Wolf will change from a part-time chemistry instructor to a full-time faculty member this fall. Wolf has received a bachelor's degree in chemistry from Purdue, a master's in educational guidance from Purdue, and has taken additional graduate work in chemistry at USC and the University of Indiana. He is pursuing further graduate studies at Long Beach State College. Wolf has been a member of the Lutheran High School faculty for the past three years.
